FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

JENNIFER BEIL JOINS SANDBOX STUDIO, CHICAGO AFTER 17 YEARS IN PRINT INDUSTRY
Account Manager Position Will Merge Two Industries To Better Serve Client's Needs

Sandbox Studio, Chicago would like to formally introduce Jennifer Beil as Sandbox's newest account manager. For 13 years, Sandbox has consistently stood above the field in communication design, and now, with the addition of Jennifer, Sandbox will be prepared to add new clients, while maintaining the same level of excellence in account and project management.

Jennifer has a degree in art for business, sits on the board of the Chicago chapter of AIGA, and 17 years of experience in the high-end print world where she's helped produce the full spectrum of print materials. Now, looking to alchemize her knowledge of print production and account management with the conceptual nature of art and design, Jennifer is poised to provide Sandbox with a level of account and project management never before seen. Jennifer will also represent Sandbox beyond the studio, establishing new relationships and furthering our mission to provide the highest level of design for clients' whose work strives for societal good.
